

WE STAND WITH THE LAND

My Pledge for 2017

We, as local communities, have an inherent right—and duty—to protect our natural resources and to ensure the safety of our residents. For three years, we have opposed Williams’s plans for a dangerous export pipeline through the heart of our communities through every legal means available to us. As 2017 begins, our resolve is stronger than ever to ensure that this pipeline never gets built.

Together:

- We defy FERC’s conclusion that the Atlantic Sunrise Project (ASP) would have “less-than-significant” impacts on our land, water, and communities.
- We defy Transco/Williams’ plans to subject our families and natural resources to catastrophic danger for their own corporate profit.
- We defy a broken version of democracy that prevents local communities from legally protecting ourselves against industrial exploitation like the ASP.

Together:

- We pledge to protect our water;
- We pledge to protect our preserved farms;
- We pledge to protect our forests and precious wildlife;
- We pledge to protect our sacred Native American heritage and culture;
- We pledge to protect our Amish neighbors who’ve been targeted and harassed;
- We pledge to protect the future of our children, who must live with the consequences of the actions—or inaction—we take today.

With this pledge:

We vow to protect our communities through Civil Disobedience if FERC allows Williams/Transco to poison our water, clear-cut our forests, steal our farms, bulldoze our Native heritage, and put our families at risk. If construction begins, we pledge to put our bodies between the land we love and those seeking to destroy it.

Together, we stand with the land.
